Had All I Can Take

All the things that I've been missing, I've had to live without

And all this time I've spent here hollow, has left no room for doubt

For long now I've hung in there, in hope that you'd see through

The bitterness and lies that have, become the truth for you

And I just don't know, how much further I can go

Or how much I have left, cause even now I'm out of breath

You know all that you need to know, you've got it all worked out

It never has occurred to you to, talk with me about

And I just don't know, how much further I can go

Or how much I have left, cause even now I'm out of breath

The ghosts inside that haunt my mind

Have your smiling face

And for the very last time

I've had all I can take

The ghosts I find inside of mine

Have your smiling face

And for the very last time

I've had all I can take

All the things that I've been missing

I've learned to live without

And yet after all

That's been said and done

Maybe I have left

Hope for just one more step
