She Cries Out Loud

Sally always had someone,

Always had a place to run

Or so it seemed

Always had a friend to count on

When life would bring her down

Or so it seemed

Now she lies awake most nights

Just holding out for her real life

It's hard to visualise

With all the love that she has known

To wind up here, all alone

Just isn't right

And she cries out loud

This isn't how she planned it out

It gets too hard sometimes

To hide the pain inside

And she'll cry out loud

Years ago she had 'em all she

Had 'em at her beck and call

Even took prom queen

Now they've gone, they just moved on they

Couldn't stay they couldn't say or

They never ring
