Anonymously

If you go down to the woods today,

You're gonna get quite a surprise.

Cause I come here when I feel this way, when I can't get you out of my mind.

Now if you came down to the woods today,

Just like so many nights in my dreams,

I'd take you down past where the children play

And show you what it really means

If you came down to the woods today,

I'd take you by the hand

We could get it on in all kinds of ways,

You'd never feel the same again

And if you came down to the woods today

And made me promise not to kiss and tell

Well I can keep a secret so that's OK

Maybe we just couldn't help ourselves.

And now this secret I'm keeping

You'd never believe

When you're around I'm terrified

You see right through me

It's something I really should just keep to me

And so I stick to loving you ... Anonymously.

What if you came down to the woods today

Without even knowing why

Keep on coming past where the children play

Imagine my surprise